

Center for Spanish Language Media
University of North Texas
P. O. Box 310589, Denton TX 76203
www.spanishmedia.unt.edu

BIBLIOGRAPHY

THESES AND DISSERTATIONS

- Martinez, M. (1985). Factors affecting the use of spanish-language mass communication media by mexican americans in texas. Unpublished masters thesis, University of Texas, Austin, Texas.
- Massey, B.L. (1988). How american news magazines have used 'cold war' labels to describe sandinista nicaragua, 1979-1987. Unpublished masters thesis, University of West Florida, Pensacola, Florida.
- McCardell, W.S. (1976). Socialization factors in el diario-la prensa, the spanish-language newspaper with the largest circulation in the United States (Doctoral dissertation, University of Iowa, 1976).
- McGovern, E.M. (1990). From varela to marti: four nineteenth century cuban emigre newspapers (Doctoral dissertation, Temple University, 1990).
- Moss, Anne Marie. (1996). Audience identity construction within four latino-oriented community newspapers. Unpublished masters thesis, University of Texas, Austin, Texas.
- Muzquiz, F.S. (1996). A history of latininos in georgia: 1976-1996. Unpublished masters thesis, California State University, Dominguez Hills, California.

Puente, Henry. (2004). The promotion of U.S. Latino films [electronic resource].

Doctoral dissertation, The University of Texas, Austin, Texas. Available electronically from <http://hdl.handle.net/2152/1358>.

Roslow, P. (1976). An analysis of spanish radio usage. Unpublished masters thesis, New York University, New York, New York.